Hello Associational Leaders,

I pray that you had a great weekend in the Lord. Below are updates on how people can Pray, Give, and Go in response to Hurricane Harvey.

The water is still rising, so they are still assessing where and how Texas Baptists and others can best respond. One thing every NC Baptist can do is PRAY. The hand of God is the strength and protection that survivors need, that sustains our volunteers through unbelievable hours of stress and service, and guides our leadership in knowing how and where we can best respond.

At this time we are encouraging people to donate financially. The costs associated with a disaster response are tremendous, so in the early hours one of the best ways people can respond is to GIVE. They can do that at http://baptistsonmission.org/Missions/By-Type/Disaster-Relief/Hurricane-Harvey. Please thank your folks for their participation in the NC Missions Offering that makes our response possible. They are involved through their NCMO gifts and their gifts designated to Baptists on Mission even if they never are able to physically go.

Our Disaster Relief and Recovery Leaders are on alert for possible response. In the early days volunteers often must respond with only 24-48 hours notice. If you have folks who can potentially do that, encourage them to check their availability. We will need volunteers to GO when the deployment call comes. Volunteers can register their availability for deployment at http://baptistsonmission.org/Missions/By-Type/Disaster-Relief/Hurricane-Harvey.

As a reminder, for those who are not able to go so far, we have four sites rebuilding home for victims of Hurricane Matthew in NC. You can Pray, Give, and Go here at home. As you pray for Hurricane Matthew survivors please focus on Lumberton, Pender County Black River site, Goldsboro, and Windsor. Our leaders and volunteers there have been amazing.
